Johnson Sentiment is Over-whelming

Hiram W. Johnson made the following remarks just prior to leaving San Francisco on his tour in Sonoma county:

"No organized movement in behalf of a great patriotic purpose could ask for a more splendid impetus than has been given our campaign for the state's regeneration during the three weeks since I left the city. In that time I have covered the state from Yreka down the great valley to San Diego and up along the coast counties back to San Francisco and I returned more vividly impressed than ever by the overwhelming sentiment in behalf of the work we are engaged in. This is not a campaign to further the personal ambition of any man, or to reward with office any man's service however great it may be, but is a people's campaign for the rescue of the state from William F. Herrin and the Southern Pacific machine."

"It has been my part on this speaking tour to let the people know that I stand today just where I stood before the priary and that no lure of office can make me serve one hair's breath from the pledges I have made. My message to the people has been that there is to be no hesitation, vacillation or compromise in the fulfillment of these pledges and the reception given us has convinced me beyond the possibility of a doubt that the people are with us. The election of the Republican ticket on November 8th is a certainty. The size of the meetings we have held, the character of those who eagerly have listened to what I have had to say, and the unbounded enthusiasm can be called nothing less than an uprising of the part of the people too far reaching to be classed within the category of a partisan political movement."

"Whatever may be the delusion of others, there can be no question that the whole great mass of people are convinced that the only hope for the present rescue of the state from the hands of William F. Herrin and the Southern Pacific machine lies in the success of our ticket, and that the defeat of that ticket could result in nothing but a setback to the great work that was so splendidly begun at the primary. This is the determining factor in the fight. That fight is now to day, but there must be no lessening of effort. It must be the purpose of the people of the state to record a majority on November 8th so great that the last vestige of the states disgrace shall be wiped away and Herrinism with its associate evils buried so deep that it can never again become an issue in California's political history."

Bell's Only Hope

That Mr. Bell's only hope of being Governor of the state of California is through the assistance of those whose political alliance is with the Southern Pacific machine and the "Special Interests" is a fact that cannot be denied. Whatever assistance Mr. Bell may receive from his own party, it is a fact that his election can only be secured by support from former machine Republicans.

Mr. Bell has insisted that his opposition to the principles advocated by these men in unswerving, but in the hope to secure their votes his attacks upon Herrin have been far less severe than four years ago. In his speech in Mendocino county on Saturday, he permitted himself bitterly to arraign the leaders of the Insurgent movement. He is quoted as saying:

"Of all the begotten men I have met in my life, the Insurgent leaders are the worst. I have no quarrel with Insurgency, because it is merely Democratic yeast in the Republican party, but when a lot of leaders such as this movement has in California say that anyone who does not fully agree with them is politically wrong, I feel that I should enter my protest."

The leaders of the progressive movement all over the country have been subjected to this sort of attack. What the progressive leaders have said is that the election of Mr. Bell means a set back for insurgency. However so much Mr. Bell may believe in the principles of Insurgency, it is an unquestionable fact that the opponents of the movement hope to defeat the progressive movement by his election. The enthusiastic support which Mr. Johnson is receiving from Democrats and others who have heretofore supported Mr. Bell is an assurance that the people of the state generally understood the situation.

SAN BERNARDINO SUN CHANGES ITS MIND

Warmly Advocates Exposition Tax It At First Opposed

The San Bernardino Sun has expressed a change of heart in the matter of raising $500,000 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition by a State tax, and very frankly says at the same time giving the reasons for its conversion as follows:

"A wise man will change his mind, but a fool never," says the proverb. Ditty, newspapers. Once, possibly twice since the suggestion was made that the State of California should bond itself for $500,000 to assist in the financing of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the Sun has been in the habit of expressing its opposition to the plan on the ground that the total sum to be provided is excessive and beyond precedent.

"Frankly, our own investigations have proven the error of that premise, and if the premise is wrong, the reasoning from it is very likely to be. So far as we have observed, no newspaper has made any comparisons with what has been provided for other big fairs in recent years, but The Sun is determined to make some independent inquiries, expecting that the results would furnish new argument to use against the bond issue for which the Legislature that meets tomorrow is to pave the way. On the contrary, what has been developed has furnished argument rather in support of the bond issue, and we call the attention of those newspapers—and they are numerous in Southern and Central California—that are opposing the bond issue, to the facts that are shown below.

"The Sun sent telegrams to the Chicago Tribune, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the Portland Oregonian, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and the Buffalo Express, asking to what extent those five expositions had been financed in advance. Replies have been received from all but the query addressed to Buffalo."

The replies received by The Sun show that Chicago had $20,000,000 in sight for the Columbian Exposition, St. Louis $15,000,000 for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, Portland $1,350,000 for her Lewis & Clark Exposition, and Seattle $1,380,000 for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

Continuing, The Sun says: "If the 1915 is to be a big World's Fair, in the class with the St. Louis and Chicago shows, $17,000,000 is not too much. If we are to be satisfied with a small fair such as that at Seattle or Portland, that is quite another matter."

"The Sun believes California wants the big fair, and when the information herewith gathered is digested by the newspapers which have been in opposition, that the opposition will largely disappear."

"The Sun begs leave to change its vote from no to yes."

EDITORS ENDORSE OUR EXPOSITION

Full Text Resolutions Adopted at Santa Barbara

The full text of the resolutions adopted by the Southern California Editorial Association at its recent notable conference in Santa Barbara in support of the proposition to raise $5,000,000 by a State tax for the Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915 is as follows:

Whereas, By virtue of an act of the Legislature of California in extraordinary session assembled, the people of California will be enabled at the general election in November next to vote upon the proposition of levying a special tax on the assessed property valuation of the State to the amount of $5,000,000 in aid for the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco in the year 1915, and

Whereas, We, the representatives of the press of Southern California, in conference assembled, having deliberated together and having heard statements and arguments from representatives of the cities of San Francisco and San Diego, and having received satisfactory assurances that the safest, highest and best financial, industrial and moral conditions will control the conduct of the exposition, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the representatives of the press of Southern California, unqualifiedly endorse the proposition and will give it our heartiest support, and be it further

Resolved, That we request our brethren of the press throughout all California, the Pacific Coast and the United States to co-operate with us in giving this matter the widest publicity.

Reports On Oil Finding

Henry A. Bradley, a Consulting Engineer and Geologist, who was employed to make an analysis of the oil findings at Agua Caliente Springs report as follows:

"The geological formation is a miocene shale superimposed by volcanic debris composed of siliceous sand, and containing one or two per cent. of iron pyrites. This flow is about 20 feet thick, overlaying this a trachyte flow about ten feet thick. The shale is exposed in the mountains to the northeast, about 600 feet in elevation, and in the creek at the bridge on the Richardson property, where the shale shows a section about 1500 feet long, it affords a good cross section as the creek has cut across it at an angle of 60 degrees. This section is the apex of an anticline of the shale. The strike of the anticline is about north 70 degrees west. The southern flank dips gently about 5 degrees except a minor crumple under the bridge shows a dip of 30 degrees; about 1000 feet above the bridge the dip is north about 5 degrees. At this point the flexure is a typical anticline in the regularly accepted sense, and is ideal in character of structural feature.

On account of being covered by river wash and volcanic debris no evidence of petroleum exists, but in drilling on the Richards property for water oil was encountered at a depth of about 550 feet, as far as could be determined the drill has penetrated about 25 feet of oil sand, and no signs of passing through it yet.

The oil is a dark brown color, with asphalt base and containing some volatile oil. The sample taken affords gravity of 22 degrees baume. This is not fair, as sample was full of fine iron particles doubtless from wear of drill in churning hours at a time in the same sand, so that in fair judgment the gravity is about 22 baume, which is fairly a light oil. The thickness of formation that could produce oil is doubtless very great as the exposed surface is the upper miocene, and this formation is several thousand feet thick at other places along the Pacific slope. There is no reason to think it would be thin in this region, and there is no exposure of lower formation at this place. It is safe to conjecture that the oil producing shale is far greater than 2000 feet. There is no signs of vulcanism in the near neighborhood, no faulting near. The flexuring gentle, showing a long undisturbed period, the condition required for the petroleum accumulation. To the northeast there are points more prominent than surrounding country, which were the vents that poured out the lava and now is eroded away to the extent that only the volcanic core is left, shows as high points here and there. The volcanic activity was gentle, not of the explosive type that shatters up the ground for miles around, but on the contrary a gentle welling up of the lava, and confined to small area.

This point is taken to demonstrate the fact that the country is not scattered, faulted and fissured, and sharply folded which would preclude the possibility of the presence of oil. Other formation is not mentioned as it would require considerable exploration, and study to determine. The miocene formation is the important one, as regards oil production, for it contains the strata of sand that are the oil reservoirs.

The section in creek shows two layers of sand about 20 feet thick and some fine gravel, clay shale and occasionally diatomaceous shale. The structural condition for the accumulation of oil in this anticline is ideal owing to the low dips, and the regularity of dip along the flanks. The sand so far penetrated proves to be highly saturated notwithstanding the fact that what was brought up through a leaking tube through a well full to the collar with water, it would probably now produce oil in some quantity if the water is shut off, and if it proves there is about 75 feet of sand at the shallow depth there is no doubt that it would be a producing well.

In conclusion can confidently state that the prospect is as encouraging as could be desired.

The only fossils found were the diatomaceous earths, and the age could not be determined from these, but is probably the lower of the upper miocene. There seems to have been diatomaceous deposits followed by sand flowing and volcanic tuff from time to time.

Vote for G. E. Murdock for county Treasurer.

22 Per Cent Gravity

Latest reports from the well being bored at Agua Caliente state that oil has been found in paying quantity at 22 per cent gravity.

The utmost secrecy is being maintained and a large fence will be constructed around the well to keep out the curious.

The well borers have ceased operation and have gone to the metropolis to obtain a larger machine, and expect to have the well fully developed in six weeks' time.

Other wells will be sunk around the valley, and already one man has started boring for oil. D. Kennel is the man, and, while he gives out no statement it is assured that oil is what he is after owing to the fact that he has ample water to supply a place twice the size of the one he owns.

On top of all this another gentleman, whose name will appear later, is negotiating with parties in the metropolis with the intention of striking for oil.

A few skeptics hoot at the idea of oil in the valley, but experts are positive that oil exists in the valley, and, although the well at Agua Caliente is very shallow as yet the experts have not been wrong in their surmise.

We learn also that oil men of other parts are looking into the proposition here and without question one year from date will find quite a number of wells sunk.

If there is oil in one portion of the valley there is oil all over it for indications are found on every side even as far south as tide water and as far north as Glen Ellen.

Let us hope the wells here will be developed more rapidly than those in Petaluma have been.

Burned to Ground

Wednesday morning in Eldridge the home of L. C. Cordill was burned to the ground and Mr. Cordill and family barely escaped with their lives.

The fire was due to a defective flue and was not discovered until the building was a mass of flames.

Mr. Cordill and family had to flee from the building in their night robes, and were unable to rescue even their wearing apparel.

The loss was about $3,500 and very little insurance was carried.

A benefit will be given in Glen Ellen shortly for them, and all should respond generously.

A Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to our friends and neighbors for so ably assisting us in our misfortune in the loss of our home by fire.

Sincerely,
L. C. CORDILL AND FAMILY.

Valdemar Liedecker

In Fruitvale at the home of his parents occurred the death of Valdemar Liedecker on Tuesday at the age of 27 years, 2 months and 20 days. He was a native of Italy, and has resided with his brother in Sonoma for the past few years until recently when he went to Fruitvale for treatment.

During the past year "Mike," as he was known among the boys here, has been failing, and the end came on the 18th.

He leaves a father, mother and two brothers to mourn their loss and consolation is extended to all by his surviving friends.

Funeral services and interment will be in Fruitvale today.

Rally Friday Night

Last Friday evening the Candidates on the Democratic ticket were greeted by an unusually large audience. There were thirteen candidates present and each presented his or her most plausible accounting which was applauded frequently.

The band played and the anvil boomed, and the evening was one of enthusiasm and well chosen speech.

There was a goodly scattering of republicans present and the general verdict was that there will be a general scratching of tickets by both parties on election day.

Thursday evening the candidates held a rally at Glen Ellen.

Will Marry November 9th

The wedding will be an elaborate one, and many have been invited to attend.

Test New Airship

The new semi-plane being built by J. Holmes in the Costello lot opposite the Catholic church, is nearly completed and in the course of a few days the machine will be taken over to Kenilworth Park for a trial. Mr. Holmes has not yet decided the exact day but feels he will be able to take it over Sunday or Monday if the weather is permitting and no high wind blowing. The planes are being covered with canvas. The machine has been taken apart to allow the work to be done. The engine has already been installed and the owner feels that he will be successful in rising in the air. — Petaluma Courier.

We might mention in passing that our trustees have shown care, caution and have gone deeply into every part and portion of the situation and are leaving no stones unturned to have the system light in every way.

Shot in Foot

Wednesday night Henry Ingraham, an employe of Lisesel's was shot in the foot by Louis Peppin, who claims he fired the shot in self defense.

It appears that Ingraham entered Peppin's place and that a heated argument was punctuated by a bullet from Peppin's gun.

Constable Ryan was called and arrested Peppin, and took Ingraham to the hospital in Santa Rosa.

Later Peppin was released on a $500 bill. At the hospital it was found necessary to amputate Ingraham's foot and ankle.

THE MADE-TO-ORDER CREAM SEPARATOR

The dairy farmer who buys a 1910 De Laval Cream Separator gets a machine that is really made especially to order for him. First: Because the 1910 De Laval is designed and constructed, without sacrificing any vital feature, to meet the comments and criticisms gathered from over 1,000,000 dairy farmers to whom De Laval machines have already been sold. Second: Because if he should offer to pay ten times the ordinary price he couldn't secure a closer shinning, a greater money, time and labor saving, a more durable, a more convenient or an easier running separator than the 1910 De Laval. Last: Because every feature of the 1910 De Laval machine from top to bottom is just as the best mechanical as well as the most practical engineering demands that it should be. The De Laval is the made-to-order cream separator without the made-to-order price. The De Laval catalogue tells the whole story. Ask for a copy.

BREVITIES

The United States Department of Agriculture will distribute in the spring of 1911 about ten tons of spineless prickly pear cuttings. The stock is grown mainly at Chico and at Brownsville, Texas. Out of 30 varieties which the Department has grown in the past, eight or ten are now being propagated for distribution to those who may wish to test them as an economic crop. These plants will not succeed outside of California, the coastal regions of Florida, Texas south of the Texas-Mexico Railway and southern Arizona. These will not succeed where the temperature remains below 20 degrees for any length of time.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye

This world rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well-known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys and bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by L. S. Simmons

Last week the mahogany mills in East Petaluma made one of the largest shipments ever sent out of the mills. The consignment which was shipped on a barge consisted of 150,000 feet of lumber. The cargo was made up of hardwood, oak and mahogany. The lumber was shipped to White Bros. of San Francisco.

A wild grape vine on the shores of Mobile Bay, about one mile north of Naphane, Alabama, is commonly known as the "General Jackson vine" from the fact that General Jackson twice pitched his tent under it during the campaign against the Seminole Indians. In 1897 the trunk of the vine was reported to have a circumference of six feet one inch at its base.

The severest hurricane of years is raging with increasing violence. The English and Irish coasts are strewn with wreckage. It is reported that one hundred and fifty have perished. Many vessels have foundered.

The captain of a small ship had need to go ashore in one of the boats belonging to the ship. As it happened the ship was being pointed at the time, the painters using staging supported by ropes. The captain ordered the ship's boy to "let go the painter" belonging to the boat. After waiting some minutes the captain roared again: "Let go the painter!" The boy replied: "He's gone, sir, pots and all."

Good results always follow the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They contain just the ingredients necessary to tone, strengthen and regulate the kidneys and bladder, and to cure backache. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

For many years the United States internal revenue laws have required that immediately upon emptying any stamped package of distilled liquor, the marks, stamps and brands must be at once destroyed, and severe penalties are provided for failure to comply with the law. Many liquor dealers, and private individuals, have considered it sufficient to destroy the stamps and have neglected to destroy the marks and brands. Attention has been called to the law by the authorities at Washington and instructions have been given to rigidly enforce the regulations. When a package is emptied every mark, brand and stamp should be removed at once.

For More Than Three Decades Foley's Honey and Tar has been a household favorite for coughs, colds and ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. Contains no opiates. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

An ice cave which has turned out to be the largest in the world, has been discovered within the last week in the Dachstein mountains near Vienna, on the lake of Hallstatt. Scientific investigation has been made and the cave found to be nearly a mile and a half in length. It consists of an upper and lower group of great stairs, the largest of which is about 700 feet long and about 100 feet in height. Many interesting prehistoric objects have been found.

"And where are the night books?" she queried.

"Night books?" he echoed in surprise.

"Yes," she rejoined, "those you have to work over at night sometimes when you are kept here until 2 o'clock in the morning."

When the British ship Knight of the Garter sailed from Portland, Ore., on October 15 for Shanghai, she broke her own world's record for the largest cargo of lumber ever put afloat. On June 10th she sailed from Portland with 4,920,000 feet of lumber, which until on October 15 was the largest cargo ever floated. On the present trip the knight of the Garter is carrying 120,000 feet more of lumber, on a cargo of over 5,000,000 feet.

Eighteen hundred pounds of Chinese hair, invoiced at $750, arrived at Seattle during September to be bleached and made into wigs and hats for American women. The discarding of the cue by the Chinese, now becoming general, furnishes a vast supply of raw material, and the prevailing style of American woman's hairdressing supplies the market.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The State Horticultural Association and the California Floral Society will hold the annual exhibition at the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings of this week. One of the special features this year will be the exhibits made from the private gardens of Burlingame, Hillsborough and San Rafael. As some of the finest gardens in America are located down the peninsula, it is believed the showing made by their owners this year will be something to exceed in beauty and attractiveness all former shows. One of the finest gardens is that of Joseph B. Coryells, who has perhaps the largest collection of orchids on the coast.

"Tommy," said the teacher, "can you tell me what obscurity is?" "Yes!" replied Tommy; "it's a place where a good many people go to after elections."

"It Beats All"

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

A gun that, its inventor says, can shoot 1,000,000 bullets an hour at a cost of $20; that uses neither powder or compressed air and that fires bullets that do not require shells, was shot for the enlightenment of a delegation of New York reporters. The reporters saw the gun shoot, but they were not permitted to see that part of the gun out of which the little steel bullets came with such rapidity. A Swiss named Bangerter was introduced as the inventor, and the press agent who staged the exhibition stated that Bangerter, who used to make watches, will go down in history alongside such geniuses as Thomas Edison, Eli Whitney and John Ericsson.

The immature chauffeur has been put out of business in the state of New York. Since the beginning of this month it has been unlawful for any youngster under eight to run a motor car. Furthermore, it is the law now that a chauffeur cannot get a license until he shall have satisfied the authorities that he knows a good deal about the running of a machine. Lastly, persons found guilty of "joy riding" will be fined $500 or imprisoned two years.
